

"Where do I start?"

"How can I get accepted to a great University?"

"Which test do I take and when?"

"Since 1999, helping students and families chart a course for getting into college has been my passion. With the addition of College Admission Counseling to our services, I am able to coach students through the entire process. I am fully invested in each student's journey - from start to finish."

TESTIMONIAL

"After my daughter took the SAT once and did not love her scores, we were recommended by friends to try Lake Washington Tutoring for my child's next SAT test so she could start applying to colleges with confidence. We are so glad we did! LWT worked with us to get her into a great tutoring environment with a few other kids which allowed some one on one time if needed.

My daughter loved the classes, the convenience, the small class size, and the patient and reliable instructor. She understood the SAT ins and outs much better and eventually raised her score above her goal from her previous score.

I would highly refer LWT for any tutoring needs. They really do have your child's best interest at heart and follow you every step of the process, from beginning to the end when you receive your test scores, to ensure you are getting what you need."
